Skin-deep advice

Taking care of your skin is an essential part of looking good and feeling good. Here, one of Lloydspharmacy's skincare experts, Ros Jackson, answers some popular questions on cleansing to help you make the most of your skin and look fabulous this party season.

Q: Is it important to cleanse?

A: Cleansing the skin is vitally important. A lot of women don't have a proper cleansing regime or use the wrong products for their skin type. If you're not careful some ingredients can strip out the good in your skin as well as the bad. Clean skin will also be better prepared for day moisturising and night time skin care.

Q: What are the benefits of cleansing properly?

A: Cleansing is the first step in the basic three step skin care routine - cleanse, tone and moisturise - and will give you healthier, clearer skin. Every day our skin is exposed to dirt, grime, toxins and pollution, cleaning all that away helps to unblock pores, prevent black heads and reduce shine from excess oils. It's particularly important for young people going through puberty to get into the habit of a proper cleansing routine early. This will help to reduce issues with problem skin. There is also a positive psychological effect from cleansing. If your skin feels clean, you feel better inside and out.

Q: When buying skincare products, what should you look for?

A: It's very important to be aware of your skin type and to buy appropriate products. For example, if you have dry skin look for products that are described as 'soothing', 'nourishing' and 'hydrating' with ingredients such as shea butter. If you have oily skin you'll need something with purifying ingredients such as tea tree oil that will leave the skin feeling fresh and squeaky clean!

Q: Are there ingredients you should avoid?

A: Avoid ingredients such as parabens, lanolin, artificial colours, phenoxxyethanol, mineral oils and harsh detergents. It's important that you do not disrupt the natural balance of the skin by using soaps which can strip natural oils and dry the skin. Also avoid using products that include detergents. Regular use of cleansing wipes is acceptable if you have a young skin, prefer a quick routine or are travelling and need convenience products. As long as the wipes are designed especially for facial skin, you use moisturiser / night treatment afterwards then long term use should not be detrimental to the skin.

ANGER OVER PARKING CHANGES

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

NEW parking regulations at The Stow shopping centre are causing widespread confusion, it was claimed this week.

Notices were placed on cars parked in a service road behind the parade of shops warning owners they would face penalties if they were caught parking there in the future.

Charges introduced by Harlow Council on October 12 mean residents and traders have to pay up to £6 per day to use the car park near their homes and businesses, with the nearest on-street parking up to 20 minutes walk away.

Angry residents have collected more than 400 signatures on a petition calling on the council to introduce residents' parking permits.

One resident, James Collins, said: "In six years living here I've never had a problem with the parking but now I have to pay to park close to my home. I can't afford £6 a day to park in the car park.

"I have a pregnant girlfriend and we already live up several flights of steps. I need to be able to park nearby."

Woman charged after dog attack on police horses

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

A DOG owner will appear in court next week after her animal savaged two police horses on patrol in Harlow town centre.

The 43-year-old woman was arrested and charged with being the owner of a dog dangerously out of control in a public place.

Police horses Rosie and Toffee were on a routine high-visibility patrol in North Gate last Wednesday when they were approached by the dog – which had been let off its leash – shortly before 5pm.

It bit one of the horses between the legs and then attacked the other. The riders were both thrown to the ground and the horses bolted into rush-hour traffic on Fourth Avenue.

The two officers were taken to nearby Princess Alexandra Hospital where they received treatment for cuts and bruises.

Both horses were examined by a vet. Rosie suffered serious wounds and will not be fit to go back on patrol for three months, while Toffee received stitches but will have to undergo training before she returns to action in a month.

The dog was also caught and is currently in the possession of the police. It remains unclear whether an order will be sought for its destruction.

One eyewitness said: "The dog was just roaming around the town centre off its lead when it spotted the horses and went for them."

"It latched on to one horse's leg and wouldn't let go. The horse reared up and threw the policeman onto the ground and then just bolted on to Fourth Avenue, followed by the other one. It was chaos."

The dog's owner, who was charged under the Dangerous Dogs Act, is due to appear at Harlow Magistrates Court on Wednesday.

For trees a jolly good fellow

GWAPPLE me gwapenuts! Celebrity botanist and environmental campaigner David Bellamy mucked in at a Harlow school on Tuesday when he helped pupils plant 40 new trees.

Henry Moore Primary School, at Church Langley, was one of the schools chosen to take part in the Tree Appeal which aims to plant thousands of trees in schools to offset the carbon footprints of UK businesses.

Professor Bellamy helped the youngsters to plant English oaks, field maples, cherries and goat willows, all native trees that have been most affected by development.

Teacher Barbara Murray, the school's sustainability co-ordinator, said: "David is a national treasure and the children were fascinated by him. He took an assembly in the morning talking to them about sustainability."

"We were very lucky to have him here and even some of the adults were thrilled to see him."

Panto cast to light up the town centre

A DAY of family fun is in store when Harlow's town centre Christmas lights are switched on next Sunday (November 15).

Fireworks, funfair rides, live music, carollers and street entertainers are planned for the day which will culminate in the lights being switched on by the cast of the Playhouse pantomime.

Children will also get the chance to join Santa and his reindeer on a spectacular Christmas glo-stick parade through the town centre at 4pm.

Town centre development manager Richard Dennerly said: "We have organised entertainment on stages in the Harvey Centre and Market Square and will have other performers wandering throughout the town centre all afternoon."

More than 50 shops in the town have pledged to stay open for late-night shopping on five consecutive Thursdays beginning on November 19, with shoppers able to park for free in The Water Gardens, Harvey Centre and Terminus Centre car parks between 6-9pm.

"The late night Thursday free parking will bring many shoppers into the town centre in the weeks leading up to Christmas," said Mr Dennerly.

Anger over Stow parking changes

with fellow resident Michael Jaisingh, told the Star: "I wouldn't mind if the council would let us buy permits. I could afford £10 or £20 a year; that would be fair."

One trader, who did not want to be named, said the new regulations have led to confusion.

"I've been told by car parking attendants that we can park in the loading bays at the back of our shops and on the other side of the road too," he said. "Then, this week, they tell us we cannot do that and that we cannot even use our traders' parking permits in the car park at the back."

"Then we are told we can use our permits in the car park."

"I'm getting so many different messages but I haven't received anything in writing about it. I just hope I don't get a ticket on Monday."

Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said the authority would consider all feedback on parking.

"As part of consultation on parking in The Stow we would be happy to hear from people who think they would find a residents' parking permit scheme helpful in the area," he said.

"The council only issues warning notices and fixed penalty notices where vehicles are parked illegally on public-owned land."

Youth charity in TV bid for Lottery funds

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A YOUTH counselling charity in Harlow is set to compete on television for £50,000 of Lottery funding to help refurbish and extend its facilities.

Young Concern Trust, based at Sewell House in The Hides, will go up against eight other charities in The People's Millions on Anglia TV later this month.

Viewers will be given the chance to telephone in and vote for their favourite project.

Young Concern Trust's appeal will be screened at 6pm on Wednesday November 25. If it secures the cash it will be matched by Fowler, Smith & Jones Trust and the charity's own funds to refurbish the former Dashes Family Centre and establish a new Youth Counselling and Resource Centre.

Director Robert Locke said: "This is such a great opportunity for improving the lives of many vulnerable children and young people here in Harlow. To expand and extend our services we desperately need the centre to be made fit for purpose and useable. "We need the town to get behind us and make sure we win this Lottery cash. Then we can immediately get on with refurbishing the centre and providing new services."

"We need everyone in Harlow to phone in to vote for us."

A new centre for the charity will enable it to:

- double the number of children and young people who can access counselling and therapeutic group work to 1,000

- offer innovative and accessible internet-based counselling services
- enhance children's self-esteem, confidence and aspirations with targeted counselling services

- improve health, reduce inequalities and social exclusion among young people

- act as a hub for other children and young people's services.

Lady Diana Kemp-Welch, the former High Sheriff of Essex who co-founded the trust 21 years ago, said: "I remain convinced that there is, and that there will be, an increasing demand for the charity's services."

"We need a new youth counselling centre to enable us to broaden and increase what we do. Young Concern will be able to provide better services to children and young people, enabling them to turn their young lives around."

Soccer match proceeds are handed to hospice

THE proceeds of a summer football match between Harlow police and referees has been presented to charity.

The cheque for £4,548.22 was handed to Vicky Parker of Hastingswood-based St Clare Hospice by Harlow Referees Association chairman Steve Gleeson, pictured left, and PC Terry Rackley.

The game at Harlow Town's stadium, was watched by 'Allo 'Allo star Vicky Michelle and ended in a 7-6 victory for the boys in blue.

"We were robbed by the police and they're off our Christmas card list this year," joked Steve. Terry added: "This is the most we've raised in my three years fundraising."

Radio's celebration

HARLOW Hospital Radio will be starting next year's 40th anniversary celebrations with a Christmas concert at Matching Tye Village Hall.

The station based at Princess Alexandra Hospital first started broadcasting to patients in 1970.

The 40th Anniversary Committee have been meeting since May 2008 to plan the celebrations which include an enlarged annual open day and anniversary dinner.

The concert, which will feature popular show songs and seasonal numbers performed by members of the Bishop's Stortford Musical Theatre Company, takes place on Sunday, December 6 at 7pm.

Tickets cost £5 and can be obtained by calling the station on 07538 403432.

Nurse's charity trek

A NURSE in the Epping Breast Unit at St Margaret's Hospital is beginning a 10-day trek through the jungle of Thailand today (Thursday).

Philippa Dooher, lead breast care specialist nurse and advanced breast practitioner, is raising funds for breast cancer research.

"I shall be hacking my way through jungle and bush and sleeping under canvas for the whole 10 days which will be quite an adventure," she said. "But it's for a good cause and I am determined to keep going."

To sponsor Philippa, visit her website at www.justgiving.com/philippa.dooher.

Couple celebrate 70 years of marriage

IT was a real family affair for one Harlow couple when they celebrated 70 years of marriage.

Scores of relatives and friends joined Alf and Lily Brill's at an anniversary party held at the Travellers' Friend pub in Epping Green on Sunday.

The couple first met as teenagers in the East End. "He was best friends with my neighbours and used to come round and help me dry the dishes after dinner so I had time to go out for a walk with him," said Lily (94).

"But then my family moved to Stamford Hill and it was too far to keep in touch so we let it go."

Years later Lily and a group of friends decided to go to a dance at the Hammersmith Palais. By coincidence, Alf was there on the same night. "We couldn't believe it," said Lily said. "We hadn't seen each other for more than four years. We talked all night and he took me home all the way to Stamford Hill." When Alf was called up during the Second World War they decided to marry but as they could not afford a lavish celebration they tied the knot at the local synagogue and Lily's mother cooked dinner.

The couple, who have three children, 13 grandchildren, 27 great grandchildren and six great, great grandchildren, moved into sheltered accommodation in Tynley Croft, Harlow, 13 years ago after Lily slipped and broke her knee.

Looking back over their years together, Alf (92) said the secret to a long marriage was love, respect and a very close family.

OAP gets apology for flu jab mix-up

ANGRY: David Stockbridge with his father, Frederick

HEALTH chiefs have apologised to a pensioner with breathing difficulties after he was twice denied a flu jab because of a breakdown in communications at a GP surgery.

Housebound Frederick Stockbridge (86) was visited twice in the same week by a doctor and a nurse but neither had the vaccine with them.

Mr Stockbridge's son, David, said he first contacted the Hamilton Practice, in The Fairway, to book his father a home visit after he complained of chest pains.

He asked if his father could be given the flu jab at the same time but was told by a receptionist that GPs could not give the injection so he would have to book a separate appointment with a district nurse.

"I was a little puzzled at the receptionist's assertion doctors could not give the jab but I went ahead and booked my dad a second appointment with a nurse, who I was told would visit him the next day," Mr Stockbridge told the Star.

But when the doctor arrived at his father's home later that afternoon he told the pensioner a flu jab could and should have been booked at the same time.

"I'd clearly been misled by the receptionist," said Mr Stockbridge. "To make matters worse, I then found out a nurse had not been to visit him the following day as promised."

A nurse did call two days later but again had not been told to administer the flu jab. "By this time I was fuming," said Mr Stockbridge. "My dad was in a right state because he was terrified of getting the flu and both times he had been denied the jab."

"It's an absolute disgrace and it needs sorting before someone dies because of administrative errors."

A spokesman for the West Essex Primary Care Trust said a letter of apology had been sent to Mr Stockbridge, who has now received the jab.

"We are unable to go into specific details of this case but an apology has been made to the family and the practice has already introduced procedures to ensure that such breakdowns in communication do not occur again and that correct procedures are followed in future," he said.

"The procedures which have been put in place will be reviewed frequently and discussed with practice staff to ensure that communication channels are kept open at all times."

TA centres vital

SIR, I would not normally consider myself a Conservative voter but I wholeheartedly agree with Robert Halfon that our MP, Bill Rammell, has failed the brave servicemen and women of Harlow (Star, October 29).

Does Mr Rammell not realise that local Territorial Army centres are essential to the development and training of young servicemen and women? Not only do they provide a clear link the local area, but help foster a sense of community and improve moral within the armed services.

When we are sending troops to fight in Afghanistan, why is Mr Rammell even considering making cuts to the armed forces and their local centres? Economic difficulties should be of no consequence when you are asking your brave troops to make the ultimate sacrifice.

Angela Fulham
Northbrooks, Harlow

Slap in the face

SIR, Robert Halfon is completely right in saying that the closure of the Territorial Army centre in Harlow is a massive slap in the face for reservists.

I have friends and family who have been involved in the TA and know the importance of local centres to squaddies. It will be a huge blow to those serving on the front line to learn that their local centre has closed and will remove yet another support network for those serving their country.

Why does Mr Rammell not use his ministerial position to do what he was elected for – representing his constituents?

Cavalier attitude

SIR, A leaked memo from the late

We must act now on climate change

SIR, The fact that both Tony Hadden and David Pugh seek to trivialise the established fact of excessive global warming and climate change is desperately disappointing (Letters, October 29).

We are not discussing the survival of the planet; that is not in question. It will still be here, but largely uninhabitable, long after the majority of the human race is extinct.

It is true that the planet has always had a periodic cycle of warming and cooling. There is ample scientific evidence to illustrate and support this fact. Evidence shows the range of global temperatures and atmospheric composition throughout these cycles and the story is one of general stability in the magnitude of the periodic cycles throughout the dinosaur and human pre-industrialisation period.

Since then, and particularly within the last century, there has been a dramatic and detrimental shift in the evidence. The only sustainable interpretation is that the rate of global atmospheric contamination is quickly accelerating.

There is no point whatsoever carping about government ministers' cars or blaming it all on capitalism or what is going on in China, India or the US. All this will have to change in any event and so will we in our lifestyles.

The fact is that unless urgent international targets are urgently agreed and implemented now, all this planet's future children and their grand children will lead lives of wretchedly poor quality.

We, here and now, have a fundamental human duty to prevent as best we can this most awful of futures for them.

Now is the time to act in whatever ways will drive our leaders to take the necessary steps to defuse the worst of these catastrophes and then, over time, start to reverse the change in climate.

All this is possible. We do have now the clean technical means. All that is required is a fit-for-purpose political will.

Bins are better

SIR, I am both disgusted and disappointed that somebody somewhere has decided that Brockles Mead will not be getting recycling bins. Whoever decided that boxes and bags would be used needs to live round here on collection day to realise what a ridiculous decision this is.

I welcomed the idea of wheelie bins because Brockles Mead is an area in dire need of help as far as rubbish is concerned. We tackle litter that is strewn everywhere from the fast food outlets of Staple Tye, a problem made worse on collection day when recycling is collected as dropped rubbish is just left by the refuse collectors!

After picking up the recycling that is left blowing around the area, my small recycling box is already half full. With animals ripping open bags and rubbish going everywhere, Brockles Mead is becoming a run-down area. This is not the fault of the residents but of continued neglect by the council.

Recycling and environment issues are important to me. These wheelie bins help tackle these issues by making it easier to monitor who is and is not recycling.

Jenny Harding
Brockles Mead, Harlow

Planning disaster

SIR, It is reported that Lord Browne, the former boss of BP, is writing his memoirs. Will he be recording any of the discussions at his reported tea parties with former Prime Minister Tony Blair that may have resulted in Harlow North being promoted by this Government?

Now he is retired Lord Browne will, no doubt, receive a substantial pension provided by the BP pension fund which controlled the site at the time.

It is clear the idea of building another new town of some 50-60,000 people within a mile of Harlow is appalling in strategic planning terms, with an already stretched infrastructure of roads, sewers and water supplies.

Perhaps properly considered planning terms were not the criteria?

Richard Searle
Sheering Lower Road, Sawbridgeworth

Pay and dismay

SIR, Like most people in Harlow I was not surprised to read in the Star that traders saw a drop in customers after only one week of parking charges at Bush Fair.

Only a Conservative-run council would impose such measures during a recession. Many local shops and businesses rely on these community car parks and trade should be encouraged, not discouraged.

Labour voted against these changes as we knew the effect it would have, not only at Bush Fair but also The Stow and Old Harlow.

Harlow Conservatives have spent £112,000 implementing these changes but there will be even more money lost if shops and businesses have to close due to loss of takings.

As for Tony Hall's comments about residents parking permits, Labour councillors and concerned local residents told him back in March what the problems were.

If I was a local resident I would not hold my breath for this situation to be resolved as this Tory council's recent history of listening to people is appalling.

Civic Centre, Harlow

15,000 at Town Park fireworks

A CROWD of more than 15,000 people converged on Harlow Town Park for Sunday's explosive night of fun and fireworks.

The annual council-run display started with live music and entertainment compered by the Ten 17 FM roadshow crew.

Council chairwoman Edna Stevens lit the bonfire before the crowd settled back to enjoy the spectacular 20-minute pyrotechnic show put on by Firemagic which lit up the skies above the town.

Even after a dazzling multi-rocket flourish ended the show with a bang there was more enjoyment to be had at the fun-fair

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said: "Our firework and bonfire night has yet again been a huge hit with residents.

"I am delighted we provided such a great night of entertainment for all the family.

"The dazzling firework show, which bought the event to a close, received a huge round of applause from the many thousands of people who watched.

"I would like to thank the council officers who do so much to ensure this event is both entertaining and safe for those who attended."

Rare coin joy for Margaret

A LUCKY woman hopes to be coining in the cash after she discovered a rare 20p coin among her small change.

Margaret Read, of Paddock Mead, Harlow, found one of the undated coins – the result of a production error made by the Royal Mint – as she sorted through a pot of loose change.

By SARAH HUNT

Star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The hunt for the rare 20p coins has become a massive craze ever since The London

Mint Office, a specialist coin collecting company, announced it would pay £50 for the rare coins.

"I was very happy that I found the 20p and surprised as I never usually win anything!" she told the Star.

"I saw a notice in the national papers about the coins and noticed one in my pot of 20ps a few days later. I couldn't believe it and I'm looking forward to spending the cash!"

The coin-hunting began when The Royal Mint mistakenly produced a batch of new-design 20p coins without the year date stamped on them.

It is estimated that between 50,000 and 200,000 of the coins are estimated are currently in circulation, the first time this has happened in Britain since 1672.

The slip in The Royal Mint's usually strict quality control has raised the pulses of coin collectors nationwide with over 10,000 people pre-registering their interest on The London Mint Office website.

But the valuable coins are being sold on internet auction site eBay alongside fake ones.

"A number of people are listing the old design 20p which featured the date on the reverse," warned coin-expert Nick Hart, of The London Mint Office. "These coins are only worth 20p."

Beware the pitfalls of shopping online

SHOPPING online is a useful way to save money, with bargains galore to be snapped up by thrifty spenders, but it pays to be cautious. Here the Star offers advice on buying and selling things safely online.

There are plenty of pitfalls to be avoided when using the internet's most popular shopping website, eBay. Here millions of users buy and sell both new and second-hand goods, but it is worth keeping an eye out to avoid being scammed by rogue traders.

Buyers should always check on the seller of the item they are interested in. Previous customers will have left ratings and comments on how they found doing business with them, which can prove invaluable in identifying potential trouble ahead.

It may sound obvious, but read the item description thoroughly – is the dress the right size or is the digital camera the model that you are looking for?

If you have any doubts, make contact with the seller before committing yourself to a bid – and always check how much is being charged for postage and packing, which can bump up the cost unexpectedly.

Always make sure you enter your credit card details directly on the website, or use an alternative secure payment method such as PayPal to keep your bank account details safe.

Sellers are advised never to accept cash payment.

While most buyers pay up promptly, sometimes problems can occur if payment is not forthcoming. eBay provides an online process through which the buyer and seller can communicate with each other to resolve the situation before making an official complaint.

A Tradings Standards spokesman said: "When buying goods or services on the internet, you should shop around as prices vary online just like in shops.

"Be sure you know who you are dealing with. Make sure you have a home address and landline telephone number for the company and try to confirm the details of the business by looking them up independently. Keep copies of all paperwork.

"You should also be aware of your cancellation rights; they should be displayed clearly on the website, but if they are not, you are entitled to ask for them in writing.

"As well as having a seven-day cooling off period if you change your mind, you also have the right to expect your goods to be in satisfactory condition and matching their description. "Finally, if the goods cost more than £100, consider paying by credit card as you may be able to get a refund from your credit card company if the goods are faulty or don't arrive.

Woodland walk marks 1,000 days to the Olympics

WALKERS marked the start of the 1,000-day countdown to the London Olympics by completing a 1,000-metre lap of Parndon Wood Nature Reserve in Harlow on Saturday.

Lead by experienced walk leaders, they were joined by Harlow Council chairwoman Edna Stevens and councillor Tony Hall on the trek through the picturesque woodland.

"London 2012 will be a fantastic occasion for the whole country and in Harlow we are extremely excited about the Games due to our close proximity to London," said Mr Hall. "The Games can bring many benefits to Harlow, including encouraging people to get more active."

Teen thief 'got off too lightly'

ONE of the victims of a prolific thief who owned up to nearly 700 crimes has spoken of her disgust after he was spared jail.

Bradley Wernham (18), formerly of Orchard Croft, Harlow, admitted stealing cars, cash and goods worth more than £1m in a six-year crime spree.

Tearful Gillian Molineaux, whose Ford Mondeo was stolen by Wernham from outside her Lower Sheering

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk home last June, told the Star: "This is absolutely ridiculous and I feel sick to my stomach.

"I was told that he wouldn't get out without a prison sentence because of his years of stealing. It almost makes you want to turn to a life of crime. I've never done anything wrong but there is no justice anymore."

Mrs Molineaux investigated the crime herself and found that Wernham had been boasting about stealing the car and driving the vehicle around Harlow.

The Mondeo was eventually found by police in Southend with more than £4,000-worth of damage.

Last week the Star reported that Wernham was ordered to complete 150 hours of unpaid work and given a three-year community order when he appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court for sentencing. In addition, he and his partner had been allocated a rent-paid home in Chelmsford.

Judge Christopher Ball said it was a "unique solution".

But the sentence provoked an angry reaction on the internet, with many readers posting comments on our website.

JasonB said: "So he causes at least 660 families or businesses to become victims of crime, steals somewhere in the region of £1m but because he helps the police with their detection figures they give him a rent-paid home and no jail time! He'll become an MP next."

Jackie Webster wrote: "I am absolutely disgusted that anyone could allow this delinquent to walk the same streets as honest, hardworking law-abiding citizens.

"He has been rewarded for ruining people's lives at a time when many hardworking families are losing their homes through job losses."

Another contributor called Peter added: "And they say crime does not pay! Work hard and pay your taxes and get shafted by the Government, but rob people and places and ruin people's lives and get rewarded for it. How much lower can this country sink?"

Home-alone mum's birth in bathroom

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

A PREGNANT woman surprised midwives by giving birth at home on her own.

But Atefeh Behresi (24), of Hull Grove, Harlow, took it all in her stride and the next day was back in the kitchen cooking for her husband!

Proud dad Hadi Davari Yaseenzadeh (30), who works at Caspian's Grill House in Market House, said: "The baby was due that day so Atefeh went into hospital but she wasn't feeling any pain. They told her to go home and come back the next day.

"I was at the restaurant and called her to check if she was ok. Ten minutes later she called back to say she was in pain.

"I left the restaurant and went home but I was panicking and forgot my keys."

When he arrived home he was unable to get in and he became more concerned when his wife started calling him through the upstairs bathroom window.

"I had rung for an ambulance but I didn't know what to do," he said. "In the end I smashed a window to get in and rushed upstairs, only to find my wife holding the baby!"

Despite their ordeal, both mother and baby are well.

"She was absolutely fine," said Mr Yaseenzadeh. "She doesn't remember much about what happened but she's been laughing about it. The next day she was cooking again."

The couple are still to choose a name for their second child, a younger sister for their 18-month-old daughter Rose.

"We were told that there's no way one person should be able to deal with the pain and deliver the baby," said Mr Yaseenzadeh. "You need two or three people there."

Town centre still proving a draw for new retailers

HARLOW continues to defy the economic downturn by successfully attracting new retailers to the town centre.

Town centre manager Richard Dennerly said that while neighbouring shopping centres such as Hertford, Braintree, Basildon and Stevenage were experiencing a drop in the number of retailers looking to locate in their towns, Harlow was bucking the trend.

The town recently saw the opening of Changing Rooms and D&G Weddings along with the relocation of Shoe Zone and Rose Opticians to bigger premises.

And future prospects look promising with just over six per cent of units standing empty compared to the national average of 14 per cent.

"It is significant that Harlow is still very much on the radar," said Mr Dennerly. "The number of shoppers coming into the town centre since the beginning of September has swelled and Christmas shopping is already under way."

Jaws of a sea giant

THE skull of a giant sea monster which stalked the world's oceans 150 million years ago has been washed up on an English beach.

The terrifying animal, called a plesiosaur, is thought to have been up to 16 metres long, weighed a whopping 15 tons and had a bite four times stronger than a tyrannosaurus rex. Plesiosaurs would have lived around the same time as the dinosaurs and had huge heads like a crocodile, powerful jaws and a set of razor-sharp teeth.

The giant skull was found by fossil hunter Kevan Sheehan near Charmouth in Dorset on the south coast of England.

Dr David Martill, of Portsmouth University said: "This is one of the largest, if not the largest, plesiosaur skull found anywhere in the world and contains features that have not been seen before. It could be a species new to science."

Plesiosaur expert Richard Forrest said: "This is the most powerful predator that has ever existed. It could have eaten a human in one gulp. In fact, something like a T.Rex would have been breakfast for a beast like this."

Scientists are going to study the skull and hope it will give them lots of new information about the animals and what life was like back then.

There are also plans for it to go on display in a local museum, so if you're ever down that way on holiday why not ask your parents if you can pop in and see it.

LITTLE PARNDON: A developer has donated 200 high-visibility jackets to the school as part of International Walk to School Month.

Barratt North London presented the jackets to make walking from its development in Fifth Avenue to the primary school, in Park Mead, safer as the nights draw in.

Glyn Hopping, regional managing director for Barratt North London said: "Throughout the region we have a large number of children living at our developments within close proximity to schools so it makes sense for us to support International Walk to School Month."

"Not only does the campaign encourage children to get more exercise by walking to school but it helps relieve congestion outside schools and help reduce pollution."

Parents who would like a high visibility safety vest for their children can pick one up at Barratt's sales and marketing suite in Hammskjold Road.

IDA NURSERY: The High Wych pre-school was overrun with wicked witches and gruesome ghouls on Friday as toddlers dressed up to enjoy a spooky Hallowe'en fun day. The terrifying tots got their hands mucky making slime, scary Hallowe'en masks and hairy spiders before tucking into a delicious lunch of witches' fingers and worms (fish fingers and spaghetti). The youngsters then hunted for bats and creepy-crawlies hidden in a wobbly tower of jelly and indulged in a spot of traditional apple-bobbing.

Nursery deputy Leigh Hewett told the Star: "The children and staff all had a great time getting into the Hallowe'en spirit by dressing up as their favourite ghouls and playing some fun and spooky games."

LATTON GREEN: A healthy schools award was received by the student council at the primary school in Riddings Lane, Harlow.

The Government award recognises work done by the school to help keep the children safe and healthy.

Year 1 teacher Catherine Hills was responsible for much of the work, including completing the barrage of paperwork.

Headteacher Lorna Handcomb said: "We are very pleased to receive the award and I'd like to thank the staff for their help. It is a lot of work."

"The school has promoted healthy eating and we do two hours of high-quality PE a week."

The school has even taught pupils about the dangers of the internet as part of the safety aspect of the award. It now intends to go on the advanced stage of the programme.

Prince makes his point to snapper

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The photograph was yet another taken by one of the many people who turned out to see the Prince of Wales during his visit to electronics firm Cossor in Harlow back in 1978.

His Royal Highness points like Elvis and grins at cheeky photographer Zulqar Cheema as Cossor staff crowd round to get a glimpse of the heir to the throne. The paparazzi-style shot is one of many to arrive in the Star postbag since we first featured memories of the Prince's flying visit in this column a few weeks ago.

Mr Cheema suggests the Prince's posture was reminiscent not of a pop star but a famous First World War poster.

"I managed to capture the head on picture of Charles pointing at me like Lord Kitchener," he said.

The Prince apparently said to Mr Cheema, who was 18 at the time: "You'll never get that picture taken in time!"

Looking back, Mr Cheema, of SVS Video Services based in Berecroft, said: "I took the pictures on my trusty Zenith camera.

"His helicopter landed on the bit of the green opposite Cossor on what eventually became the Co-op biscuit factory. It was the first and only time that bit of land was cleaned and it looked as though you could eat your dinner off it."

Recalling the Prince's visit, he said: "Any time off was better than working. After a short walkabout he was off; it was a bit of an anticlimax in the end for me."

● Do you have any photographs of days gone by in Harlow that you would like to share with our thousands of readers? If so, send them to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Social club prize night may 'strike' up a few memories

WHILE we're on the subject of Cossor, the flood of photographs sent in by former employers shows no sign of abating.

This jolly bunch are members of the Cossor Social Club. The picture was taken during the prizegiving night at the end of the 10-pin bowling season in 1968.

Our thanks to Ron Hornsey for letting us borrow it. Ron, who is pictured kneeling on the right, still believes he had the highest ever series score of 690.

Ron, now 81, married Joan in the spotted dress (far left) in 1951.

Can you identify anyone else in the picture? If so, write to us at the usual address.

Join us at the first hospice Santa Run

WITH Hallowe'en and Bonfire Night now out of the way, the organisers of St Clare Hospice's first Santa Run in Harlow are hoping that attention will now turn to this Christmas fundraiser.

More than 100 people have already signed up to take part and each day more entry forms are dropping on the desks of the fundraising team.

But with just four weeks to go until the run, which is being supported by the Star, more people are needed to make sure it goes with a bang.

"We're hoping that it's now not too early for everyone to be thinking about taking part in a festive fun event," said event fundraiser Tracy Meale. "We would love to see 500 adults and 100 children taking part. "Not only will the event help raise funds for the care of local people but it should look amazing with hundreds of Santas dashing off across the Town Park! We want as many people as possible to join and help us have some fun and raise much-needed funds."

The Santa Run takes place on Sunday, December 6, starting at 11am. The aim is to get as many people as possible – adults and children – to dress up as Father Christmas and run, jog or walk or wheel the 4km course around Harlow Town Park.

The first 500 adults to sign up will receive a free Santa suit and the first 100 youngsters will be given a Santa hat.

"We hope to raise £23,000 from this event which is enough to fund our in-patient unit for a whole week," said hospice communications manager Giles Wright. "There will be up to eight patients staying in the hospice over Christmas but many more friends and family members will be supported by our team during the holiday period."

Tracy added: "It may seem like a long way off to Christmas but with this exciting event happening on December 6, that's only four weeks and three days away. You need to get in quick to get your free Santa suit."

To sign up today, visit the St Clare website at www.stclarehospice.org.uk. Alternatively, you can be sent an application form by calling the fundraising team on (01279) 773750 or by returning the request form printed above. Registration is £15 adults (16 years and above) and £5 for children.

Plaque honour for a champion of local politics

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A BLUE plaque in memory of former Harlow district and Essex county councillor Rene Morris was unveiled on Friday.

The memorial has been placed on the front wall at Labour councillor Mrs Morris's former home in The Chantry.

It was unveiled by former Harlow MP and Harlow Civic Society chairman Stan Newens during a ceremony attended by MP Bill Rammell, Harlow Council chairwoman Edna Stevens and councillor Tony Hall.

Mrs Morris, who made a major contribution to the New Town community, died in 2004.

Born in Walthamstow, she married carpenter and trade unionist Bob Morris in 1944 when he was a sergeant in the Grenadier Guards.

The couple joined the Labour Party after moving to Harlow where their home soon became a meeting place for Harlow Victory for Socialism Group.

Mrs Morris was elected to Harlow Urban District Council in 1965 and served continually until her defeat in the 2002 local elections.

She chaired the council in 1971-72

and, when it became a Harlow District Council under local government reorganisation in 1974, chaired the community health and welfare committee.

Mrs Morris was also elected to Essex County Council, serving from 1970 until her death.

She also acted as election agent for Mr Newens from 1974 to 1987.

"Rene was one of the most outstanding citizens and public representatives in the post-war history of Harlow," he said this week.

"Her contribution to the quality of life in the town, her work on Essex County Council and her commitment to national and international causes will be remembered long after her departure."

Shopping centre enters into the Hallowe'en spirit

THE Harvey Centre played host to a ghostly gathering of ghouls, witches and vampires as families enjoyed a Hallowe'en fun day.

Youngsters got the chance to make pumpkin masks, witches hats and bats, meet some creatures from Broxbourne Paradise Wildlife Park and take part in a fancy dress competition.

Accompanied by Count Dracula, Morticia Adams and a host of other spooks, they were then led from shop to shop where they collected treats to round off a bewitching day of frighteningly fun activities.

At the same time, staff at gadget store GimmeGizmo dressed up to raise money for Children In Need, asking for donations in exchange for sweets.

Store manager Rach Richardson said: "People really seemed to be enjoying themselves and the kids loved the fact we'd all dressed up. There were some brilliant costumes and lots of happy faces."

Café drama may not be everyone's cup of tea

what's on at The Square

TONIGHT: As if you didn't know by now, Thursday night is Incoming night at The Square, where the rawest, freshest and downright tastiest local bands get their chance to impress you with their otherworldly musical talents and impressively outré haircuts. Expect fireworks from Role Call For The Second Site, Roses in Rome and Silent Front.

FRIDAY: Former Waylaid members Nicky, Gareth, Craig and Dan return in hot new band shocker! That's right folks, Escape Artists make their hugely anticipated and undoubtedly tearful live debut at their hometown venue, gawd bless 'em. Support comes from Harlow indie heavyweights 33 Revolutions and Newtown Pioneers, while Stortford cloud-strollers I Dream In Colour (formerly Sub Pop Sunday) open with an acoustic set.

SATURDAY: Howlin'-and-a-hollerin' Antipodean garage punks The Squirrel Skin Slippers, pictured above, crash-land for an evening of '60s-inspired psych-rock freakbeat mayhem. An unholy union of dirty Delta blues, furious folk noir and punchy proto-punk, their sound is a gleefully primal, foot-stomping racket with nods to John Lee Hooker, Wild Billy Childish, Link Wray and the Trashmen. Support comes from The Bon Vivants, uproarious garage rockers French Kissing and local psych-punk pretenders The Freaks.

THE latest work from local playwright Simon Mawdsley was born out of a passion for traditional London cafés and the realisation they are being steadily erased by soulless chain-restaurants.

As stark-yellow lighting illuminated the stage, a perfect rendering of a London greasy spoon revealed itself as the setting for The Last Café.

The set perfectly captured the cosy, idiosyncratic feel of the British café, right down to the plastic tablecloths and bottles of ketchup. But simultaneously it looked unadorned, setting in place an environment whose colour comes from the people itself who pace the chequered flooring like pieces on a gameboard.

The play centres on café-owner Gina (a convincing performance by Caroline Petherbridge) and begins on a stormy night, foreshadowing the chaos that is about to shake up her world when a ghost from her past returns.

Her ex-best friend Maddie (Wendy Grant) arrives unannounced after an 18-year absence, bringing with her a flurry of painful memories that Gina has worked to suppress.

The climax witnesses another figure from the past, Austin (Martin Bedwell in imperious form), forcing his way into the room, threatening Maddie's life and demanding Gina hand over the café he has long desired to add to his string of pubs and clubs.

REVIEW

The Last Café Victoria Hall Theatre, Old Harlow

Starting out with an interesting premise, the play was weakened by a somewhat unconvincing and muddled plotline which involved South American terrorists, a pointless kidnapping and a rather far-fetched money-mystery.

A significant portion of the action was confined on past, off-stage events which meant that much of the dialogue was an unravelling of facts to fill-in the audience. Set in the same room throughout and with a small cast, the play needed to compensate for this by being dynamic and varied, but both pace and tone were mainly unchanging, making the drama feel over-long.

Yet the play certainly had its merits, exploring the theme of survival poignantly – not only of the café as a world holding out against commercial uniformity but also the survival of its characters.

While The Last Café touched on some interesting themes, these were only ever superficially explored and the play felt too gruelling to work as a satisfying piece of escapism.

Despite seeing and hearing so much of the central figures, the limited characterisation made it hard to warm to them and left the sense that this café-drama didn't quite cut the mustard.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL (3D & 2D)
certificate PG 1h35m

Robert Zemeckis directs a 3D version of the Dickens classic using state-of-the-art motion capture technology to render the actors' performances in eye-popping computer animation.

The film opens, fittingly, with a copy of the novel which flicks open to chapter one where we meet miser Ebenezer Scrooge (Jim Carrey) at the funeral of his business partner, Jacob Marley (Gary Oldman). After taking the coins from the dead man's eyes, Scrooge sends neighbours scurrying for cover as he trudges through the snow-covered streets.

But as Christmas Day approaches, the curmudgeon learns the true value of the festive season and his place in the world thanks to the intervention of three ghostly guides.

With his eyes now fully open, Scrooge has the opportunity to make amends to his assistant Bob Cratchit (also played by Oldman) and the people closest to him.

JENNIFER'S BODY
certificate 15 1h42m

Screenwriter Diablo Cody follows the deserved Oscar triumph of Junio with a horror comedy about a high-school hottie (Megan Fox) who develops a bloodthirsty taste for teenage boys. Jennifer's Body is a distinctly off-kilter teen horror that doesn't quite find its rhythm. Fox confidently graduates from her eye-candy roles in the Transformers films to leading lady, but has wild-eyed competition from co-star Amanda Seyfried.

THE FOURTH KIND
certificate PG 1h35m

Back in 1977, Steven Spielberg introduced audiences around the world to Close Encounters Of The Third Kind. The film took its title from a scale devoted to alien encounters: the 'third kind' refers to actual contact with extra-terrestrials.

Encounters of the 'first kind' are mere sightings of alien craft, while the 'second kind' is any encounter supported by evidence. Olatunde Osunsanmi's fact-based thriller deals with encounters of the 'fourth kind' – alien abduction – and centres on psychologist Dr Abigail Tyler (Milla Jovovich), who runs a practice in Alaska where there are an abnormally high number of people claiming to have been subjected to experiments at the hands of visitors from another planet.

During her videotaped sessions, Abigail grows increasingly disturbed by similarities in her patients' accounts, challenging her beliefs about whether we are alone in the universe.

TRUTH is certainly stranger than fiction in Grant Heslov's black comedy, inspired by Jon Ronson's bestseller of the same name.

The Men Who Stare at Goats constructs a deranged tale of US servicemen who are trained to become Jedi warriors, capable of killing the enemy using only mind power.

The soldiers harness this extrasensory perception and telepathy by staring for hours at goats, painting bags of sand on parts of their anatomy that shouldn't see the light of day in public and telling themselves they can pass through solid objects.

Reporter Bob Wilton (Ewan McGregor) is embedded in Iraq during the early years of the invasion, scrabbling around for a story. By chance, he encounters

certificate 15 1h33m

oddball Lyn Cassidy (George Clooney) who makes outlandish claims about being part of the so-called New Earth Army – an experimental US military unit dedicated to the art of mental warfare.

Lyn regales Bob with tall tales of his escapades, including how he once killed a goat by staring down the cloven-hoofed beast. Lyn then sets off on mission to track down the New Earth Army's one-time commander Bill Django (Jeff Bridges), who has disappeared without trace.

Bob tags along with his mentally-unstable new acquaintance, learning more about the covert programme through colourful reminiscences such as the fierce rivalry with fellow psychic Larry Hooper (Kevin Spacey) who was always fiercely jealous of Lyn's talents.

The Men Who Stare at Goats is a scatter-brained road movie in the company of another hilarious misfit from Clooney's ever-expanding repertoire.

McGregor plays the straight man throughout, acting as our eyes and ears to the escalating madness which culminates in a memorable LSD trip in the desert.

Wherever truth ends and fiction begins, Heslov's film is a fast-paced jaunt that doesn't overstay its welcome, underpinned by larger-than-life supporting performances and a lively script from Peter Straughan who redeems himself after How To Lose Friends & Alienate People.

MICHAEL JACKSON'S THIS IS IT

IS IT: Hastily constructed from hundreds of hours of backstage and rehearsal footage, Kenny Ortega's documentary is a glowing tribute to the King Of Pop as he prepared for one of the most spectacular live shows of his career. Screening for a limited engagement, This Is It is an opportunity for the fans to witness arguably one of greatest pop concerts never staged, mixing regret with sadness over his death.

FANTASTIC MR FOX: Hip indie director Wes Anderson brings his offbeat and distinctly adult sensibilities to bear on Roald Dahl's classic children's story, with lead voices from George Clooney and Meryl Streep. He imprints his personality so indelibly on the script that it's hard to see children enjoying the film. The stop-motion animation is visually impressive, but Fantastic Mr Fox is a film you admire and marvel at rather than unreservedly love.

UP: The latest computer-animated masterpiece from the wizards at Pixar (Wall-E, Ratatouille) is an adventure in the company of a cranky old man and an excitable young boy. Both hysterical and heartbreaking, this rumbustious romp is guaranteed to have even the hardest and most cynical soul choking back tears long after the lights go up.

The opening 10 minutes of Up are among the finest Pixar has ever crafted.

kids' club

ICE AGE 3, DAWN OF THE DINOSAURS: When Sid the sloth is taken to a mysterious underground kingdom by a fearsome Tyrannosaurus Rex after attempting to adopt her eggs, his friends embark on a rescue mission.

BEVERLY HILLS CHIHUAHUA: Pampered pooch Chloe is kidnapped while on vacation in Mexico and must rely on her canine friends to rescue her.

THE TALE OF DESPEREAUX:

The tale of three unlikely heroes – a misfit mouse who prefers reading books to eating them, an unhappy rat who schemes to leave the darkness of the dungeon and a bumbling servant girl with cauliflower ears – whose fates are intertwined with that of the castle's princess.

" Halifax reports a 4th consecutive monthly house price rise, with 1.2% reported for October, more positive news for the housing market, coupled with lenders showing a slightly increased willingness to lend. Remember the Stamp Duty holiday ends on the 31st of December so anyone buying a property up to £175k needs to ensure they complete before Christmas, otherwise you will be giving a belated present of upto £1750 to Gordon Brown's tax fund. But don't expect a Thank You card!!!!!!!"

NEW OFFICE AND WEBSITE

We are pleased to celebrate the opening of our Old Harlow office. We are delighted to be located within the centre of Old Harlow amongst Solicitors, Surveyors, Accountants and other Estate & Letting Agents.

We have also just launched our new website which has been simplified to optimize the speed which properties are searched for. Every property has at least 8 photographs by clicking on the individual photographs the image balloons to 6' x 5' - a really decent viewing size!

We have been established in Harlow since 1987. For many years we were Town Centre based and over the last 22 years we have sold 1000's of properties and our database shows that many of our clients have moved to either Old Harlow, Church Langley, Newhall or the surrounding villages. We are now perfectly located to assist them all once more.

Having weathered the property recessions in 1990 and 2008/9 we are extremely excited about the future of the Harlow town housing market and should anybody be contemplating a move in the near future please call us for a free valuation.

Our enthusiasm and experience will not be matched. We promise to be straight talking, competitive and will try our utmost to make the whole moving process far less stressful.

Centurion - Inspired by the past with a great team for the future

Compact Citroen is big on style

Citroen's C3 is now a much sharper and better riding car. IAIN DOOLEY takes it for a test drive

It might have taken a little time, but with each successive model Citroen is proving that it hasn't lost the knack of making attractive-looking and enjoyable to drive cars.

The French firm's second generation C3 compact hatchback joins the recently launched C3 Picasso mini people carrier and C5 family hatch, all of which proudly display Citroen's bold chevron-inspired nose and bold curves. And while this C3 retains its predecessor's 2CV-like profile, everything else is different. The lights – fore and aft – are glossy and expensive-looking, just like the C3 Picasso's. There's also a general feeling of improved quality everywhere you look, from the exterior panel gaps and aforementioned lights to the completely redesigned interior.

Oh, and it can be had with a big windscreen... a really big windscreen. It's a cost option but it finishes behind your head, giving you an incredible view both forward and overhead. The extra light adds to the already airy cabin ambience.

FACT file

Citroen C3 1.6
Hdi 90
Exclusive

from £15,200 on the road (range from £10,800 on the road)

ENGINE	1.6-litre petrol unit developing 90bhp
TRANSMISSION	5-speed manual transmission
CO <sub>2</sub> EMISSIONS	110g/km
PERFORMANCE	0-62mph 11s / top speed 112mph
ECONOMY	65.7mpg

Okay, it won't be a deal breaker for many buyers but the screen's existence is proof that Citroen once again feels confident enough to think outside the box. And this new-found emboldened attitude is evident everywhere in the C3's cabin.

The overall level of quality has been greatly improved, with the end result an experience more akin to that of something from the class above. Gone are the fiddly controls and hard plastics of old, replaced by smooth contours, classy switchgear and a welcome feeling of solidity.

The car's chunky main controls and easy-to-read instruments are a delight to use and there are no complaints regarding the comfortable and supportive seats.

Staying on the comfort theme, the car might not have grown in size like many of its rivals but Citroen's engineers have found more cabin space. Rear legroom is better and everyone should feel more comfortable on long journeys, while the car's boot is a useful size and the split/fold function is no doubt a welcome feature for an active and growing family.

The C3's engine range has also matured. It now offers a useful choice of petrol and diesel units including the now essential 99g/km CO<sub>2</sub> diesel motor. Five-speed manual gearboxes are standard issue on all bar the flagship diesel (it gains an extra cog) and the performance from the two sampled engines (1.6 VTi petrol, 1.6 Hdi diesel) is worthy of some serious praise.

Never previously regarded as a car that delighted enthusiastic drivers, this C3 is now a much sharper, more willing and easily a better handling and riding car. Nowhere is this more obvious than at speed; while not a supermini's usual habitat, motorways can be tackled with confidence while twisty backroads should raise a smile or two.

With ample storage space for your drinks bottles, mobile phones and assorted clutter, the C3's cabin is not only well screwed together but also practical. Clearly lessons have been learned from its bigger brother, the C3 Picasso people carrier.

The same is true when it comes to creature comforts. If corners have been cut, Citroen has worked hard to hide them. All the usual safety kit is present for a car in this class, while you won't lack anything to make the journey fly by. A fully-featured audio unit combining sat-nav and a mobile phone connection plus other useful items – including the extended windscreen – make personalising the car easy.

If you're interested in making economy savings, Citroen is promoting one trim level in particular: Airdream.

Partnered with a special version of the firm's 99g/km CO<sub>2</sub> 1.6-litre diesel, this car boasts a few added aerodynamic tweaks plus other eco-friendly changes to achieve its impressive low emissions figure.

Citroen might be keen to focus your attention on the C3's mammoth windscreen but there's so much more to this thoroughly enjoyable supermini.

Displaying a vastly improved ability to impress on the road and an aura of quality not seen in its maker's small cars for some time, the C3 is a great all-round package. Whether you're upgrading from something smaller or downsizing and want to retain all your creature comforts, there's something for everyone.

The Z cars dynasty rolls on

FANS of the Nissan 350Z should not be disappointed by its 370Z replacement.

The Japanese maker has done the decent thing bringing buyers more power from a larger engine while bolting on a series of design and engineering upgrades and some exciting technological additions.

Nissan's sports car stock couldn't be much higher at the moment. The GT-R has been showcasing its penchant for taking the established supercar elite to the cleaners at a fraction of the price and now there's a replacement for the much-loved 350Z. The 370Z coupe promises more of the same: more muscular styling, more hardcore driving thrills and, yes, more power.

The 350Z gained a loyal following for its no-nonsense approach to making drivers smile. A charismatic V6 engine, a balanced rear-wheel drive chassis, manly control weights and a mild hooligan streak all set it apart from the more sanitised offerings at its price point. The simplicity and old school charm of the 350Z were at odds with the tech fest that is Nissan's GT-R and there are signs that the 370Z is edging in a more tech-heavy direction.

Its core component is its 3.7-litre V6 engine. It's a development of the 350Z's 3.5-litre, but 35 per cent of its parts are completely different. The powerplant uses

INSURANCE GROUPS 19 CO<sub>2</sub> EMISSIONS 249g/km PERFORMANCE 0-60mph 5.3s / top speed 155mph FUEL CONSUMPTION (combined) 26.9mpg STANDARD SAFETY FEATURES Twin front, side and curtain airbags, ABS, ESP, active headrests WILL IT FIT IN YOUR GARAGE? length 4.25m/width 1.845m/height 1.315m

Nissan's VVEL variable valve timing technology, which helps it achieve a smoother delivery of its 229bhp maximum power output. The 7,000rpm red line should please those who like a sports car which rewards a hefty right foot.

Perhaps the most intriguing aspects are its two gearboxes. Buyers get the option of a close-ratio six-speed manual set-up or a seven-speed automatic with paddle shifters on the steering wheel.

The 370Z is a smaller car than the 350Z: 100mm shorter in the wheelbase and 70mm shorter overall. Nissan has employed lightweight materials extensively in the car's construction which have reduced the weight of a body that's also significantly stiffer than the 350Z's. The sole areas of expansion are a 33mm increase in width and a rear track that's up by 55mm, to enhance stability.

The 350Z wasn't a pretty car per se but its neat lines had a handsome aggression that marked the Nissan out from its overtly style-conscious contemporaries. The 370Z isn't a massive departure from this approach and, if anything, it's an even more imposing prospect. The rounded lines of the front and rear ends remain, but the roofline now pivots at the top of the windscreen before sloping away steeply to the rear in a fashion reminiscent of the GT-R. The front air-intake also borrows from Nissan's supercar slayer and gives the 370Z greater malevolence as it looms in your mirrors with twin aerodynamic fins rising like fangs from its lower lip.

The interior of the 350Z was something of a let down: well put together and functional, but lacking the design flair that some expected from a £30,000 coupe. The 370Z looks to address this with improved materials and some extra creativity. A number of the old car's trademark features are still intact, such as the instrument cluster attached to the steering column that moves as you adjust the driving position to guarantee an unhindered view of the dials. The two-seater layout is retained, but there's a shelf behind the seats that provides extra storage, and Nissan has added a lockable glovebox for increased security. The 370Z isn't short of rivals in the compact coupe marketplace. Prospective buyers will also be considering Mazda's RX-8 and Volkswagen's Scirocco, which undercut the Z on price, but then there's the Audi TT and BMW Z4, which will cost more if you need an engine that will replicate the 370Z's performance and also want the benefit of a premium badge. The 370Z is a car that lives to be driven hard and to do so will inevitably rack up hefty bills. On fuel consumption, for example, your Nissan dealer may well quote a combined figure in the region of 24mpg, but you'll need to be some kind of feather-footed freak to match that. On one 'enthusiastically driven' test route, we saw an average of 13.2mpg come up on the calculator. Ouch. Likewise, the 370Z has an appetite for rear tyres if you're the sort who likes to disable the electronic control systems.

You'd expect insurance to be commensurate with a car that can reach 155mph and jet to 60mph in just over 5 seconds: expect a group 19 rating. That isn't that bad when one considers that an Alfa GT 3.2 V6 and a Porsche Cayman 2.7 are rated in the same group. Think of the Z as being a mere one group higher than a Ford Focus ST hatch and it doesn't seem too bad at all. Nissan's Z car dynasty continues with the 370Z. The 350Z always offered buyers in its price bracket something unique and the 370Z has all the elements to do likewise.

Fans of its predecessor will be looking for the car to replicate that raw, muscular feel, and if the 370Z can manage this while adding a dash more finesse and sophistication, it'll be tough to stop.

BE A MULTI-SKILLED ENERGY ASSESSOR

Regardless of the recession, a new European Directive now legally requires an estimated 2.1 million homes and commercial properties being rented, sold or built to have an Energy Assessment this year alone. And more 'green environmental' laws are coming!

For example next year nearly every commercial property with air-conditioning must have an Assessment before the January 2011 deadline.

Applicants are therefore required to train now as multi-skilled 'Property Professionals' to carry out commercial and air-conditioning Energy Assessments and many other roles such as Flood and Fire Risk Assessments, Energy Audits, Insulation Surveys, Property Valuations, Home Condition Reports, Public Buildings Assessments etc.

No previous experience is necessary, training to join this new growth industry can usually be taken around current job at our nationwide training centres approved by the Government-appointed Awarding Body for the Built Environment and is subsidised. On qualifying start your own energy business, work for other Assessment Providers or be available for potential full or part-time work through our Energy Assessor Panel with earnings of up to £1,500 per Assessment.

New Ash feel the burn

A STRONG all-round display from Harlow Ladies guided them to a convincing 49-17 home win over New Ash Green as the Rams went third in the RFU Women's League East Two.

Sarah Stimpson scored four tries, but centre Davina McLellan broke to open the scoring with an unconverted try.

Harlow's front row-forward Gemma Ackerman was injured following a scrum collapse and lock Claire Lacey went off with an ankle injury.

The visitors scored an unconverted try but Harlow then took control scoring three more unconverted first-half tries through Rebecca Conway, Kelly Cotterill and Stimpson following after a great solo run.

Shortly after the interval, Stimpson took a quick tap penalty and broke to score. Emily Gizzi kicked the conversion.

The visitors scored a second unconverted try, but Harlow increased the lead with tries from substitute Emma Dunkley and Gizzi.

The closing minutes saw Stimpson score her third and fourth tries one of which was converted by Gizzi, before Ash Green had the final word with a converted try.

Players' tribute to Nicky

Cont'd from back

The hosts went behind in the first 10 minutes against unbeaten leaders Clacton.

A Clacton forward left the Harlow defence in his wake before hitting a post. The ball rebounded kindly and a team-mate tapped in from two yards.

The lead was doubled minutes later when a shot from a short corner was deflected off the foot of James Smith, wrong-footing keeper Richard Norris.

Although the hosts looked threatening in attack, there was no further first-half score.

But after the break, Harlow halved the deficit. Adam Ottley slipped ahead of his marker and latched onto Chris Shearman-Slack's pass and used its pace to deflect the ball into the far corner.

Harlow searched unsuccessfully for an equaliser before Clacton scored from a counter-attack late on.

And there was still time for the league leaders to add another goal.

HARLOW: Norris, Castle, Plumridge, Jones, Symonds (c), Krzoska, Smith, Shearman-Slack, Ottley, Gorringer, Chandler.

Rower's Olympic quest a tall story

ROWING by DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsexnews.co.uk

TALENTED oarswoman Gemma Akers has turned her back on working at a children's nursery and instead set her sights on competing at the Olympic Games.

The 22-year-old Great Britain rower from Harlow enjoyed a promising career in childcare when she responded to Olympic rowing legend Sir Steve Redgrave's call in 2007.

Sir Steve urged tall people to launch sporting careers and see if they had the potential to become an Olympic athlete.

Akers, who is 6ft 2in tall, had previously represented Essex at swimming.

She never imagined that height could be an advantage to her and present her with an opportunity to train as part of an elite squad of athletes with a goal of representing Great Britain at the Olympics in London in 2012 and in Rio de Janeiro in Brazil in 2016.

As a teenager, Akers was bullied for being so tall.

But she has turned this experience around and it has given her the determination to succeed at her sport.

HOPEFUL: Gemma Akers (6)

"As a teenager you don't want to stand out from the crowd but you can't hide your height," said Akers.

"Being tall has worked to my advantage this time and given me an amazing opportunity to train as an athlete, representing my country and potentially competing at the Olympics."

Her progress has been rapid.

After only two years she has gained medals at a number of national and international events.

This included a gold while representing Team GB as part of an U-23 crew of eight at the Essen International Regatta in Germany.

Akers has set her sights on 2012 but is also helping UK Sport recruit yet more talented young athletes to join the GB recruitment drive as an Ambassador of Talent 2016: Tall and Talented.

She said: "Tall and talented is a once in a lifetime opportunity and if you want to be an Olympian, I would urge you to take a chance and sign up - you have nothing to lose."

● TO sign up for Talent 2016: Tall and Talented, or to register interest in future Talent 2016 campaigns, applicants should submit their details before 16 November 2009 at www.uksport.gov.uk/talent

Holland can flatten you now she's got a black belt!

TOP HONOURS: Club instructors Mick Sullivan and Colin Mowatt, right, with Linda Holland (6)

A TAE kwon do player's progress in the sport was rewarded when she gained a 1st dan black belt.

Linda Holland (34), from Oxleys in Harlow, was put through her paces at a bi-annual belt grading ceremony held in Bristol in front of the full Great Britain 8th dan committee.

Holland, who has been training in tae kwon do for four years, carried out a series of exercises including set sparring, free sparring, while she was also tested on her Korean terminology and history.

Colin Mowatt, the instructor at Harlow Tae Kwon Do where Linda trains, was promoted to a 3rd dan black belt at the same grading.

He said: "Although myself and Mick Sullivan [a fellow club instructor] have only recently taken over Harlow Tae Kwon Do we have known and trained with Linda for almost five years. She is a credit to martial arts."

The club is based at Passmores School in Tendring Road. Members train every Monday and Wednesday (7.30-8pm).

Super Bim to Bam Boozle opposition

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday November 6).

IT took the best part of a month but BIM BAM BOOZLE finally got off the mark at Harlow when winning at his fourth attempt last week.

He has been sent off as favourite for every race in which he has taken part in, which reflects the high regard he's held in.

Now he's tasted success he can continue his progression with another win this Friday.

At 10pm, a quality top-grade event awaits where RISKY FABIO can repay his followers after an expensive flop last time out.

Having being sent off a warm odds-on favourite he fluffed his lines at the start and was unable to make up the lost ground.

With one of his normal fast starts, he can lead from start to finish this time around. The two stayers events included in the 12-race card provide two strong fancies in the form of the strong finishing LULUS MIRACLE at 8pm and the well drawn ON THE RIVER KING at 10pm.

Selections:

7.30pm Sebright Leah; 7.45pm Expert Plan; 8pm Lulus Miracle; 8.15pm Tonetta Breeze; 8.30pm Kilmagner Rebel; 8.45pm Topper Bluebell; 9pm Bim Bam Boozle; 9.15pm Coke Tip Man; 9.30pm Baggies Boy; 9.45pm Risky Fabio; 10pm On The River King; 10.15pm Dainty Benny

Colts return to top after whitewash

Darts

STAPLE Tye Colts went back to the top of the Harlow & District Darts League following an 8-0 whitewash of Moot House Arrows.

Damian Green's 180 was a mere consolation for Arrows.

Tye Green Foxes slipped to second place with a 5-3 win against a United Glass team who had one player missing.

White Admiral climbed three places to third with their 8-0 win at The Crusader and the help of a 114 outshot from Craig Parker.

Colt Hatch battled out a 4-4 draw with Harlow Hawks.

Tye Green Whites came away from Stow Snooker with a 5-3 win, with 180s from Steve Jefferies and Geoff Jordan (Whites), topped off by a magnificent 143 out-shot from 'Whites' Mick Rout. This took him top of the out-shots table.

Trevor Osborne (Stow) notched his second 111 outshot of the season.

Young Pretenders and Servo Link shared the points in a 4-4 draw at The Gate with Dicky Foster (Servo Link) notching a 180.

Golden Swift lost 8-0 against Moot House by default.

Cup mauling one for the record books

Hemel Hempstead 82, Harlow 5

RFU Intermediate Cup (London & SE 2nd round)

THE Rams slipped to one of their heaviest ever cup defeats as a weakened side were hammered at Hemel Hempstead in the RFU Intermediate Cup on Saturday.

It was Harlow's biggest loss in all competitions since they went down to Staines 86-3 in London division one in the 2003-04 campaign.

Hemel scored 14 tries in total and this is thought to be a record number conceded by a Harlow first team.

The Rams' absentees included fly-half Michael Dobson (family commitments) and both locks Darren Hawkins (leg injury) and Paul Eynon (achilles injury).

Prop James Ephgrave had to play lock and it was also the first game in more than a year for Francis Brown.

Brown, who is normally a full-back, broke a leg in the first league game of the 2008-09 season. He played at centre.

Hemel play at the same standard as Harlow (division two north west) and went ahead on two minutes through Ross Willoughby. Daniel O'Brien converted.

Hemel scored three unconverted tries in the next 19 minutes. Carl Buckingham, Willoughby and Craig Bailey all touched down as the hosts went 22-0 ahead.

David St George McKenzie scored a breakaway try before Darren Perry added two tries. O'Brien slotted one conversion and Hemel led 39-0 at the break.

At the interval James McFerran replaced David Stradling at fly-half and Stuart Wilkins took over from skipper Scott Romaine at hooker.

Hemel scored seven more tries from varying positions in the second half.

Willoughby scored two more to complete a hat-trick. Others came from Jack Church, Tom Aitken, McKenzie, O'Brien and Ryan Long.

O'Brien kicked four more conversions while Long added another.

Harlow's consolation try came when Hemel were 75-0 up. Will Grimley scored. HARLOW: Mackie, Grimley, Bowering, Brown, Hockley, Stradling (McFerran 40), Harron, Cunningham, Romaine (Wilkins 40), Branch, Ephgrave (Vanbeck 60), Palmer, Roberts, Clark, Claridge.

A spot of bad luck for Hawks

Thamesmead Tn 2, Harlow Tn 1

Ryman League div one north

ANTHONY Anstead was left cursing the Hawks' bad luck after they were denied the chance of a point at promotion-chasing Thamesmead Town.

Bottom-placed Harlow Town were trailing 2-1 in the first minute of injury-time when player-coach Mervyn Abraham was upended by Scott Mulholland but the referee waved away Harlow's appeals.

Hawks boss Anstead said: "It was a clear foul on Mervyn who was through on goal and a penalty in 100 games out of 100. It was a big decision. We would have backed ourselves to score a penalty."

"The referee otherwise had a good game but he has been let down by his linesman who had a good view of it."

He added: "I felt we deserved something out of the game. If you were an independent person, you would not have known who was third and who was bottom."

OUT OF LUCK: Harlow Town player-coach Mervyn Abrahams had a last-minute penalty turned down

Earlier, Thamesmead took the lead after only two minutes. Danny Moore crossed from the left and Joel Greaves glanced a header across the box to Peter Smith who slotted home at the far post.

But Harlow were level just two minutes later when a Jason Mason corner was headed in by unmarked Michael Pelley.

Ola Akinawo caught Thamesmead keeper Steve Northwood and a fracas erupted as the home skipper James Campbell clashed with the Hawks winger. Both players were booked.

On 10 minutes, Rikki Cable broke through but Hawks keeper Jamie Waite blocked the ball which bounced back to Greaves but Waite made another excellent save.

Six minutes before the break Emmanuel Osei went close twice in the space of 30 seconds. A header was cleared by a defender and then a 12-yard shot was deflected away.

The sides were locked at 1-1 at half-time.

However, the Londoners took the lead on 55 minutes.

They broke down the middle and Cable found Greaves. The striker ran on and rounded Waite before rifling in from a very acute angle on the left side.

Anstead added: "This was a really special goal."

Shortly after, Abraham's 23-yard shot went over the bar.

Anstead sent on substitute Ashley Robinson with just

Coach fumes as Hawks are caught Cat-napping

SHAB Niaz was fuming after Harlow Hawks slipped to a narrow defeat at Cambridge Cats in division one of the Herts County League.

The Cats built up a healthy early lead on Monday.

Harlow fought back but the Cambridge hosts were able to hang on and avenge their defeat in the opening game of the season.

Hawks' player-coach Niaz said: "We thought we could just turn up and we'd get the win. The Cats were more physical and aggressive in their play and we didn't match them."

"We can argue about the officials all day but the simple fact is that we

Cambridge Cats 75, Harlow Hawks 73
Herts County Basketball League, div one didn't raise our game to the level expected of us. The guys that came off the bench gave us a much needed spark with youngster Alex Hinds playing his best game so far."

Despite three-pointers from Paul Jessop and Shab Niaz, a subsequent 10-2 run by Cats ensured they led 23-14 at the end of the first quarter.

Hinds cut the deficit and the visitors trailed 39-35 at the halfway stage.

The crucial third quarter saw plenty of offensive rebounding and physical play as Cats pushed on. Hawks were kept alive by Jessop's eight-point haul.

Although the Hawks were boosted by a long range three-pointer from Zaf Niaz, they trailed 60-51 going into the final quarter.

However, the visitors bounced back with a 15-6 run to tie the game but Cats stepped up with a 6-0 run.

There were further scores from Hawks but Cats did just enough to win.

Niaz added: "We need to match their effort and desire, starting with the home game this Friday [tomorrow] against Houghton Raiders."

HARLOW HAWKS: Jessop (17pts), Hinds (17), Moss (11), S. Niaz (10), Haddow (7), Freeman (6), Z. Niaz (3), Allan (2), Jones, Burgess.

Crash leaves Bowen with broken hand

However, coming out of the pits bend Bowen got out of shape and lost ground on the other riders.

But he refused to give up and enjoyed a tremendous tussle with Kennett for second place.

He finally came to grief on the last lap, turning his machine to send him flying spectacularly to the ground. He cut a frustrated and dejected figure as he walked back to the pits.

Bowen added: "It was a good night for me. I was flying about everywhere - and crashing - a bit of everything, really. You've got to do it, haven't you? I was really happy overall; I didn't expect to do that well beforehand."

"Perhaps I don't believe in myself a lot of the time and I think I should, because I can beat anyone around here."

Allen won the overall title in the invitation-only event.

Bowen's Heat 1 crash was a great shame as it meant, with no reserves available, half of the meeting was contested with just three riders in a race, taking away a lot of the excitement.

Hawks boss Anstead needs new striker after Robinson quits

The former Crystal Palace striker, left, joined Harlow Town in September and although he showed skill, was clearly overweight and unfit.

Robinson scored two goals which helped Hawks to draw against Redbridge and beat Ware, but struggled to be a force for a full 90 minutes.

However, Anstead said Robinson's lack of fitness was not the reason for him going. He said: "It was a joint decision. He was travelling from Kent and football is his only form of income.

"I could not have one player earning money and the rest on the win bonus scheme. Last week after the Brentwood game a bus was cancelled and he could not get back [to Kent]. He had to stay in a hotel in London.

"I definitely wanted to keep him. He's a fantastic player. He could have got away with it in Ryman division one. If he was fit he would play at a higher level."

Although Anstead has strikers in Emmanuel Osei, player-coach Mervyn Abraham, Ashley Taylor-Forbes and Tobi Oshitola he wants at least one more. "Most of our goals have come from midfielders and defenders," he said.

The impotence up front has played a large part in Harlow winning only one of their last 15 league and cup games.

Anstead hopes the battling performance at Thamesmead Town (a 2-1 defeat) can provide the inspiration for a win against Ilford at home this Saturday.

"We have to try and stay confident and take encouragement from Saturday's game. Ilford will be a tough game and sides are lifted by coming to our stadium. We just have to battle and get a run together," the Hawks boss said.

Midfielder Ollie Cleaver and striker Taylor-Forbes have recovered from 'flu and will give Anstead more options on Saturday.

Horror crash leaves Rocket Bowen with broken hand

LUKE Bowen suffered an horrific crash in the final of Saturday's Ace of Herts meeting at Rye House Speedway Stadium, missing out on a £1,000 pay-day for what had been a tremendous effort up to that stage.

The Harlow ace revealed that he had suffered a broken hand in the pile-up in Heat 1 that also ruled out Eastbourne's Lewis Bridger and King's Lynn's Chris Schramm.

Somehow Bowen managed to get to his feet and then carry on riding despite the obvious pain and a badly swollen right hand.

Speaking straight after the meeting, Bowen said: "It happened in the first race, but the adrenalin just keeps you going. "I felt good out there tonight and was up for it, with a bit of luck I could have snatched second place from Eddie [Kennett] and gone on to catch Olly [Allen], but I lost it on turn one and that was it."

It wasn't all bad news though as the ever popular Bowen picked up the club's Rider of the Year award for the second year running, an award the former Mark Hall School student is very proud of.

Bowen did brilliantly to qualify for the Grand Final, with three race wins and three second places to earn the right to line up alongside Edward Kennett, Ollie Allen and Kyle Hughes in the last race. Cont'd on page 47

Ask George

Your local Lloydspharmacy pharmacist is here to help.

George Boateng (right), is the pharmacist at the newly refurbished Lloydspharmacy, High Street, Epping. An expert on healthcare for life, George can provide advice on a wide range of health-related matters. As well as treating current conditions, George can also help you to monitor your health and give advice on how to prevent future health issues.

To give you an insight into some of the more common health queries, here, George answers some of the questions he's been asked recently.

Q: If I have the swine flu vaccination will I be covered for winter flu as well?

A: No, swine flu and winter flu are two different strains. A lot of people assume that swine flu is this winter's seasonal flu, but that is absolutely not the case. It is estimated that, each year, winter flu and flu related illnesses claims around 8,000 lives in the UK. If you do not qualify for a free winter flu vaccination on the NHS, we can administer the vaccination in one of our private consultation rooms for just £12.

Q: I am 5ft 6in and just about 21st. I would like to use the diet pill alli. At the moment I am not very active but if I were to use alli and take up moderate exercise and healthy eating how much could I lose within a week?

A: When it comes to weight management most people want to know how long it takes to lose weight, so I understand why you ask. Unfortunately everybody's weight loss pattern is different, so I wouldn't like to put a figure on it! But, alli is intended to be used with a low fat diet that would typically provide people with a steady weight loss of 1-2lb a week. If you take alli it will help that process by increasing the weight loss by up to 50%. For example, if with a low fat diet you lost 2lb, alli would help you to lose 1lb more that week, so giving you a total weight loss of 3lb for the week. But this is just a guide and can't be taken for granted!

Q: I've been suffering with back pain, what would you recommend I take?

A: Back pain is extremely common, so much so it's the largest cause of work-related absence in the UK. There are two types of back pain, acute where the pain comes on suddenly and is gone within three months and chronic, where the pain develops gradually and lasts more than three months. And if the pain is in your lower back, in between the bottom of your ribs and the top of your legs, you may hear it referred to as lumbago. The trouble is, whichever area of your back the pain is affecting, most people will get a mixture of mild pain and some more severe pain from time to time, which makes it difficult to diagnose whether you've got an acute or chronic condition. Ibuprofen or Voltarol are good at easing inflammation. I'd also recommend using a TENS machine. These work by delivering small, painless electrical pulses to your body through electrodes placed on the skin. These block the way pain signals are sent to the brain and stimulate the body to produce its own pain-relieving chemicals called endorphins.

Q: I hear a lot of people talk about cholesterol, but what is it and is it bad for me?

A: Cholesterol is a fatty substance that helps our body to work properly. There are two different types of cholesterol. Too much bad cholesterol (LDL) can furr up your arteries making them narrower. This makes it a major risk factor for heart disease. Good cholesterol (HDL) helps to keep your arteries clean by taking excess levels of bad cholesterol back to your liver where it is processed and passed out of the body. It's important to know both your cholesterol levels - good and bad - to understand your risk of developing heart disease. We will be introducing cholesterol tests in the next couple months.

If you have a query about your medicine or would like some advice about a health concern drop into Lloydspharmacy, High Street, Epping and speak to one of the pharmacy team.
